General History of the Archdiocese of Indianapolis

The Diocese of Vincennes—now the Archdiocese of Indianapolis—was established by Pope Gregory XVI on May 6, 1834. The territory then comprised the entire State of Indiana and the eastern part of Illinois. The latter was separated from the Diocese of Vincennes upon the erection of the Diocese of Chicago, November 28, 1843.

By decree of Pope Pius IX, January 8, 1857, the northern half of the state was erected into the Diocese of Fort Wayne, the boundaries being that part of the state north of the south lines of Fountain, Montgomery, Boone, Hamilton, Madison, Delaware, Randolph and Warren Counties. The remaining southern half of the state made up the Diocese of Vincennes, embracing fifty counties. It covered an area of 18,479 square miles extending from the north line of Marion and contiguous counties to the Ohio River, and from Illinois on the west to Ohio on the east.

The second bishop of Vincennes was permitted by Apostolic Brief to establish his residence at Vincennes, Madison, Lafayette or Indianapolis; Vincennes was, however, to remain the See City. This permission, with the subtraction of Lafayette, was renewed to the fourth bishop.

Upon his appointment, the fifth bishop was directed to fix his residence at Indianapolis, although the site of the Cathedral and title of the See were continued at Vincennes. By Apostolic Brief dated March 28, 1898, the title of the diocese was changed to that of "Diocese of Indianapolis," with the Episcopal See in the city of Indianapolis. By the same Brief, the Patron of the diocese was to remain St. Francis Xavier, the title of the Old Cathedral at Vincennes.

The Apostolic Decree of His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, creating the Archdiocese of Indianapolis, was issued October 21, 1944. On December 19, 1944, by Executorial Decree of the Papal Delegate, Most Reverend Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, the Papal Decree of Pope Pius XII was solemnly proclaimed in SS. Peter and Paul Cathedral, elevating Indianapolis to the status of an Archdiocese, the State of Indiana becoming the Metropolitan Area. The Dioceses of Evansville and Lafayette in Indiana were created by the same decree and, along with the Diocese of Fort Wayne, made Suffragan Sees of Indianapolis. Upon establishment of the Diocese of Gary on February 25, 1957, it too became a Suffragan See.

Chaplaincies

Besides staffing parishes and schools in the Indianapolis Archdiocese, the local church has always recognized its responsibilities to care for the spiritual needs of those who avail themselves of other institutions located within the Archdiocese, both those that are an integral part of the church and those of the secular society. In particular, the Archdiocese provides chaplains for the Newman Centers, hospitals, homes for the aged and other public institutions. These chaplains are listed below:

NEWMAN CENTERS

In addition to the Catholic colleges within the Indianapolis Archdiocese (see the Educational Institutions section) there are 10 other universities or colleges, either public or private. Newman Centers on these campuses care for the spiritual needs of the Catholic students and faculty members of those colleges.

Educational Institutions

Education is an extremely important part of the Catholic Church in the Indianapolis Archdiocese. Elementary schools were included in the section under parishes. This section contains information about the seminaries, colleges, high schools and deanery centers in the Archdiocese.

SEMINARIES

St. Meinrad Seminary, which receives students from many dioceses throughout the United States, is composed of both a college for those at that level of their education, and a school of theology for those who are in their final four years of preparation for the priesthood. The seminary is owned and operated by the Benedictine Fathers.
